April 13, 2018

Dear President Alario and Speaker Barras:

The undersigned health care advocacy and stakeholder organizations urge you to call an end to the 2018 regular legislative session well before the scheduled end date of June 4. Ending the regular session in May rather than June is critical to allow legislators enough time to pass tax revenue measures that are necessary for continuing services for the most vulnerable Louisianans: those who are elderly and disabled.

We know that the increase in state revenue resulting from the federal tax changes will not be enough to replace all of the temporary revenue that will expire on June 30. As you know, if only a portion of the budget shortfall is addressed, you and your fellow legislators will be left in the undesirable position of having to choose which health care services to eliminate or reduce, or whether to adequately fund institutions of higher education over health care providers.

Waiting until June to begin the discussion over how to address the budget shortfall would bring the state dangerously close to the July 1 deadline to enact tax measures and pass a budget. Waiting would only exacerbate the uncertainty and worry of hundreds of thousands of patients who do not know whether their health care services will continue beyond June. We understand that you and your fellow members have a monumental task ahead when it comes to addressing the fiscal matters of the state. We urge you to begin that work sooner rather than later.

Sincerely,

Gerrelde Davis, Louisiana Primary Care Association
